Re: City of Beacon Community Forum on Policing and Public Safety

Mayor Lee Kyriacou and the City Council will host a community listening session to receive input on the Beacon Police Department and improving community relations on Saturday, June 20 from 10 am to 12 pm. The community forum is being held in response to the national discussion arising from the killing of George Floyd and the Black Lives Matter movement.

This listening session will be moderated by former City Council Member John Rembert and Sadé Barksdale, a 2011 Beacon High School graduate and licensed creative arts therapist and educator working at a community school in the Bronx.

City Residents can access the forum by:

- Visiting <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84751711976> Webinar ID 847 5171 1976
- Calling 1 929 205 6099 Webinar ID 847 5171 1976

Questions or comments can be submitted ahead of time to cityofbeacon@cityofbeacon.org

Guidelines for the event are as follows:

Mayor Kyriacou and the City Council will be engaged solely for the purpose of listening to Beacon residents. They will have no speaking role in tomorrow's event. Speakers will be called upon in the order in which they virtually raise their hand. The two moderators will gently encourage participation from people of color in Beacon; and in doing so will encourage others to step back and listen. The forum will be available on Zoom and will be streamed live to YouTube. Residents will not be able to comment on YouTube, however there will be a phone number and Zoom link within the YouTube description for those who wish to speak.
